Public Meeting at Paducah in honor of Brig. Gen. Sol. Meredith.

In pursuance of a brief notice, a very large and enthusiastic meeting of the loyal citizens of Paducah assembled in Market Square, ou the afternoon of Saturday, Feb. 25th, 1865, to express the gratification of the muunity upon the reinstatement of Gen. Meredith in the command of the District of Western Kentucky.

At the suggestion of Mr. P. D. Yeiser, Alfred Bradshaw, Esq. was called to the Chair, and F. M. Mnrray was appointed

Secretary.

The object of the meeting having been stated by the Chairman, a committee, consisting of J. B. Husbands, Judge Smedley; James N. Beadles, and W. A. Bell, was selected to prepare resolutions expressive of the public feeling. During the retirement of the committee, Dr. J. M. Mackenzie elo-quently recited the services of Gen. Mere-dith in suppressing the rebellion; described the admirable effect of his policy in reclaim-ing this pietric to the support of the Gen. ing this District to the support of the Gov-ernment; denounced, in strong and litting language, the few malignants in the community, miscalling themselves Union men, who are dissatisfied with every thing that does not promote their own pilserable sel-tishness, and concluded by heartily com-mending the General's entire administration, to the applause of all lovers of justice and the country.

At the close of this stirring address, which was received with signal marks of favor, the committee re-appeared, and through their chairman, Colonel J. B. Husbands, reported the following resolutions

1st. Resolved, That whereas, on yester-day, our community was overwhelmed with gloom at the aunonneement of the reunoval of our commander. Gen. Sol. Meredith, we are to-day in the full tide of rejoicing because of his restoration to us; and as a testimouy to the world, we now declare that he is one of the noblest of men, and that the masterly manner in which he has discharged the onerous duties devolved upon him, his sincerity of purpose and details. votion to his country, his energy in quieting the excitement in his District and bringing the excitement in his District and bringing the great body of its people to the loyal support of the Government meet our highest regard and approbation.

2d. Resolved, That we are satisfied that the opposition to Gen. Meredith, originated with irresponsible men, who, finding that they could not use him, sought his removal from command in the hope to subserve their selfish interests, and without regard to the public good.

3d. Resolved, That a very large majority of the original and true Union nieu of this community, of its business men and of the responsible, law-abiding and honest supporters of the Government throughout this District, ardently desire the permanent re-teution of Gen. Meredith.

Forcible and interesting speeches were made by Col. J. B. Husbands and P. D. Yeiser, Esq., in advocacy of these resolutions, which, upon being submitted to the meeting, were adopted by acclamation. An additional resolution was passed, directing the Secretary to communicate the loregoing proceedings for publication, to the Federal Union of Paducah, and to the newspapers of Cairo and Loulsville, and then the meeting, in pleasant humor, dis-

F. M. MURRAY, Secretary.

Napoleon's Health. The various reports which reach us from Paris, regarding the health of the Emperor of the French, are seemingly so contradictory as to occasion surprise. We hear at one time that his majesty is exceedingly ill-then almost at the same date we se mention of his appearance at the Bois de Boulogne or at some grand review or chase, and find particular stress laid upon the fact that he seemed in the enjoyment of robust health. The secret of these contradictions lies in the fact that the Emperor is subject to epileptic fits, that at times he is prostra-ted by this fearful disease—but that his skillful physicians have hitherto been enabled to operate so speedy a cure, or rather to give such immediate relief, as permitted the Emperor to make his appearance in public—his invariable practice, the moment he has sufficiently recovered. As if by magic his attacks become known all over the city. The people who have a wholesome horror of revolutious, dread the decease of Napoleon as the probable signal for one of these disturbances in the French capitol; the moment it is known through out Paris that the Emperor is ill, the greatest anxiety provnils. You see men in groups conversing upon the absorbing topic, when, to the surprise of all, Napoleou muattended, save by some favorito and a groom, rides or drives through the city, looking unusually well. People who see this think they have been hoaxed, and in time learn to look upon the reported illness of the Emperor as a fable. They caunot imagine that the man as he rides b with his usual calu look and his ready sal-utation to all, is reality suffering torture— that he is under the influence of potent drugs; that a skillful application of cosmet-ics makes up that healthful look, and that n many instances the Emperor relapses nto long and dangerous fits the moment he re-enters the palace.

These facts explain the contradictory nature of the reports we have alluded to. Doubtless the same inconsistency will con-tinue to be observed in the bulletius which will be given out regarding the health of Napoleon, until some day he will succumb to an attack more violent than any which he as yet endured, and France finds herself tossed for a brief period upon the stormy waves of revolution. Then we shall hear curious details and have interesting explanatious regarding the Emperor, and not the least astonishing will be the recital of the extraordinary measures adopted by his Majesty to deceive the publis as to his rea state of health.

We have called the one the hammer of God: we pronounce the other the destroying angel. The waving of his wings has most marvellously stirred the air within the gates of Richmond. Wheeler's Cavalry Worse than Satan-A correspondent of the Richmond Whig, describing the evacuation of Columbia. gives the following account of the deliberate pluudering of that city by the rebel

The worst feature of the entire scene occurred on the day of which I write. A party of Wheeler's cavalry, accompanied by their officers, dashed into town, tied their horses, and as systematically as if they had been bred to the business, proceeded to break into the stores along Main street and break into the stores along Main street and rol them of their contents. A detachment of detailed men fired on one party and drave them out. Capt. Hamilton, the Provost Marshal, with another officer, drew swords and pis'ols on another party, and succeeded in clearing several establishments; but the valiant raiders still swarmed like locusts, and to-day, a hundred miles away from Columbia. von may see more away from Columbia, you may see men smoking the cigars and wearing on their saddles the elegant cloths stolen from the store, and threatened his life.

Under these circumstances you may well imagine that our people would rather see the Yankees or old Satan himself than a party of the aforesaid Wheeler's cavalry. The barbarities committed by some of them are represented to be frightful, "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" being perfectly incompatible with their presence.

Rebels on State Sovereignty.

The doctrine of State sovereignty has of a State Convention:

For what is the sovereignty of the State needed in convention? Has not State sovrecignly been the weakness of this cause? If during the life and death struggle, with the compress of a common danger to bind and hold together these States, this principle of State sovereignty was continually obtruding itself, delaying and preventing the legislation necessary to the "common defense," impairing that authority intrusted with the "general welfare," and impeding the execution of laws "necessary and proper" to the success of the cause, is it to be supposed that when reviewers this principle of that when peace returns this principle of State sovereignty will permit the Confederacy to exist one year? How long would Governor Brown permit the people of Georgia to be taxed to pay the debt of the country? Even during the stringgle, he, a very retirent Governor presumes to criticise ordinary Governor, presumes to criticise General Lee's military in exements, and un-dertakes to say that General Early should have been sent to Georgi i instead of to Washington. State sovereignty thus pre-suming to judge of matters intrusted to the Confederate Executive, undertakes to destroy the efficiency of that Executive, and to subvert all measures undertaken for the common defense and general welfare.

The conduct of certain States in their opposition to the laws passed for the organiposition to the laws passed for the organization of the army, and the preservation of discipline has caused many men to reconsider their long-cherished doctrine of State sovereignty, and to come to the conclusion that, while in theory it is beautiful and true, in fact and practice it is utterly defective. This cause needs power, and power to raise men; subsistence, and not sovereignty.

A Cursing Mourner.

The editor of the Democrat should go at once to the mouruers at Richmond and mingle his tears with the tears of those sufferers who have his sympathy. He is utterly out of place in a loyal community.

He publishes a long and dismal jeremiad over the late public rejoicings in various Northern cities at the victories which have been vouchsafed to the national arms during the winter. In a rankly blasphemous manner he invokes the God of merey and asks if this rejoicing is performed by His creatures "or the offspring of hell itself!"

In a specious and we must say thoroughly dishonest manner, he assumes that the joy over victories is joy at the slaughter of rebels. He asks what would have been You deservedly compliment Mr. Yeaman, thought of any one who should have exand express the hope he will be returned nited over the execution of the rebel spy to Congress. As far back as December, '61, Beall in the presence of his stricken mother he showed himself a patriot. He then of and sister! And then goes on talking lered resolutions in the Legislature that the through his nose such intolerable stuff as or the Government; that whatever sympa-by Kentucky ouce may have had with the people of the "seceded States," she will not who have gone down into the valley and make common cause with those who are shadow of death under the flag they loved, using all their power to subjugate her people, and make a conquest of her territory. Of course the editor of the Democrat cannot rejoice at national victories, however triumphant and important they may be.

Leving sees nothing in them but so which the purpose of tracing "nested" or false packed tobacco bloodshed and suffering. No better evidence could be furnished that his heart is not ou the side of his country. Jubilant patriots rejoice over the rescued and not the dead; over the prospect of a natiou saved, and not over the precious lives that its salvation has cost. Even those who sorrow most-who have lost in the strife their dearest and nearest-yet find in the fullness of their devotion to their country ample cause to be thankful and exceeding glad over the steady advance of the Union arms. But men who are indifferent or hostile to the national cause can of course feel nothing of such a sublime and inspiring consolation. And, naturally enough, at the spectacle of victories they break out into such a mix-

Another consideration which loyal men heed, is, that every victory brings us nearer to peace and the end of this awful tragedy. Every life now expended in the wiuning of victory saves more than one life hereafter. Even an intellect so beclouded with disloyalty, as the one from which we quote, ought to be able to see this phase of the subject. Through the tempest lies the way to the harbor. The war must last till the nation triumphs. The nearer we come to triumph the more precious lives we save, the many crimes of which he was notoriously guilty, on the gallows yesterday afternoon. The execution took place on the open space on Broadway, between Sixteenth and Seventcenth streets. His trial and execution followed swiftly upon his capture. It was not till about noon yesterday that it became known that the execution was to take place, and it did not become generally known at all, we believe, throughout the city. Rumors were rife yesterday morning that Mundy was to be hanged, but it was not till about noon that Col. Dill received the order for his execution from headquarters of the Department of Kentucky. Capt. Swope, Provost Marshal, was charged by Col. Dill, with the duty of carrying out the order for the exe-certainly to take place, there was a large, motley crowd of people at the military prison by two o'clock, eager to catch : glimpse of the doomed man as he passed from the prison. From about one o'clock the crowd began to gather on the open lot, in the center of which the gallows had been erected. Streams of people from the several streets issuing upon the grounds added constantly to the bulk of the crowd; and when the appointed hour approached for the execution to take place, there was a vast concourse of people, in which was no onsiderable sprinkling of women, assembled to witness the solemn spectacle. A hollow square, enclosing about an acre had been formed around the gallows, by soldiers on detached service here. The 30th Wisconsin infantry, on provost duty at this post, escorted the unhappy victim of his own crime to the place of execution. At fifteen minutes before the appointed hour, the sound of drums and fifes announced the approach of the cortege.

spiritual adviser, and another gentleman an eager crowd pressed up to it to get a shrinking mocd during the whole day. Whether it was really a peuitent or only a craven spirit we are unable to say. Suffice it to say that the nerve and coolness, the nonchalance with which he was wont to shoot down unarmed and helpless meu completely forsook him when the King of Terrors stared him in the face. He approached his doom neither as a martyr, nor a bravado, nor yet we fear as a contrite sinner. But we will not judge him. It was an impressive sight to see such a reckless and malignant murderer so utterly cowed and broken when the doom he had courted came upon him.

fore the party alighted from the carriage, during which the enlprit continued in the attitude and occupation alluded to. He took no notice of the crowd gazing at him or of the persons sitting with him. He was dressed in dark, check pants of uniform color, a dark-blue roundabout fastened with a single row of brass buttons, a black velvet cap fitting close to his head, and a pair of bronzed and tattered boots.

His personal appearance was singularly youthful, and the first impression he makes is that of a person below the average stature. This is illusory, however. He was not less than 5 feet 10 inches in hight, and possessed a powerfully muscular frame. But there also the features of his face. These facts, added to his clean-shaven, youthful appearance, doubtless occasioned the impression of his being under size. He had long, slighteyes near together, eye-brows touching a grain upwards at the end: a broad mouth, drawn down at the corners, and lips singularly expressive of vindictive passion. All something feline, sinister, almost serpentine in hls look. It was a sort of Malaypirate expression. THE GALLOWS.

The gallows had been erected hastily. The trap door was held in its place by an upright prop, to which there was a rope attached running along the ground some distance from the gallows. The trap was let down by a sudden jerk of this rope. The doomed man got out of the carriage and ascended the gallows accompanied by his spiritual adviser, Capt. Swope, Provost The Press is the Official Paper of the Marshal, and Capt. Carter, Assistant Probut there was play enough in the chain to allow him to walk with ease: his arms were free. He didn't betray any strong emotions, but he seemed to realize fully the awful doom that awaited him, and his lips were constantly in motion as if silently praying. He was placed upon the trap door, and the manacles were taken from his feet. His arms were piuioned and his legs securely bound with ropes. A fervent prayer was made by the Rev. Mr. Talbot. Capt. Swope then read the findings and entence of the Milltary Commission, condemning Jerome Clark to be hung by the neck till dead, and asked the doomed man if he had anything to say. After a little hesitation he said that he had been a Confederate soldier for nearly four years. He was under Buckner at Fort Donelson, and had been in other battles. He said he had taken a great many prisoners, and had always treated them as men; and that he could prove that he was a regular Confederate soldier. The noose was then adjusted around his neck, and the white cap drawn down over his face, and the next moment the trap fell and Jerome Clarke was launched into eternity. The fall evidently did not break his neck; he struggled very violently for about five minutes. After twenty minutes had elapsed he was pronounced dead and cut down.

AN INCIDENT. Just before the body was cut down, the rowd was suddenly startled by hearing firing in the direction of the Military Prison. A number of persons cried out simultane onsly that the Military Prison was attacked, A scene of almost indescribable confusion nsued. The alarmed crowd dispersed in all directions. The military too were not free from alarm. A square was formed directly around the gollows by a portion of the military force present, and the remainder were started off at double quick to the cene of the disturbance. Near the corner of Fourteenth street, on Broadway, a steer of mammoth size was found lying dead with a considerable crowd gathered around him. The steer had suddenly nuade his appearance in the street, and gave evitence of anything but an amiable disposition by madly dashing at persons on the street. People were compelled rather hastniy and nuceremoniously to enter houses lear by to escape the ferocious animal. The ruards that were stationed along the street. ecing the danger that persons were in from he wild beast, began firing at him. About thirty shots were fired before they succeeded in killing the steer. Where the animal ame from was not known.

One old soldier who has the rheumatism in a wooden leg was drawn a mile and a half last night, and was so effectually put out of pain that he went to sleep on the pot. When waked up, he assured the isher that he hadn't committed Brighamy, on honor he hadn't-a remarkable illustration of the pleasures of imagination. It is the dignity and repose of our good citizens did most wickedly and feloniously contract with a well-known chemist to fill the Temple with laughing gas, whereby some unsuspicious and unsophisticated individuals were nearly choked. The matter is to e investigated to-night. A committee of ur prominent citizens have undertaken supervise the exposure; and a large sized joke will be AWarded to the one who first disco vers the trick.

TRAIN CAPTURED ON THE NASHVILLE ROAD.—The passenger train which left this city Tuesday afternoon for Nashville, was attacked and captured a few miles below Glasgow, by a band of guerrillas under entry. The train was thrown off the rack by obstructions being placed on it, and the guerrillas made an attack upon the rain, capturing it. Several of the passengers were wounded. The newshoy on the train was shot and severely wounded in the leg. There were a number of Federal soldiers on board, unarmed, going to their regiments, who were paroled. The passengers were robbed of money, watches, &c., after which the train was set on fire, aud

General Orders No. 4.
Reliable evidence has reached these head quarters that emissaries of the rebel Government are engaged in recrniting for their exhansted armies in the State of Kentucky Appeals are again made to the young men of the State to disregard their duty and risk their lives and honor in a wrecked and desperate cause, while men who have de-serted the rebel service and are now peaceably at their homes are required to rejoin their commands, again encounter the perils of treason under the threatened penalty of betrayal to the Federal authorities, who, they are taught to believe, will treat them as outlaws and guerrillas. To counteract these efforts to mislead the men who have, in good faith, deserted the rebel service, all deserters from the rebel armies, now in this Department, will, within thirty days from date, report then selves to the Provost Marshal of the county in which they reside for registry. And all persons who may hereafter desert from the rebel armies and come into this Department will, within five days after their arrival report themselves for the same pur-

Provost Marshals will receive the report of all persons presenting themselves under this order, will register the name, age, residence, and the particular military organization from which they have deserted. Such registry will be regarded by the military authorities of this Department as a distinct renunciation of all further connection with the rebel Government and as entitling the registered person, who demeans himself as a peaceable citizen, to military

Persons who refuse to present themselves for registry as required by this order will be understood as adhering to the rebel gov-ernment, and, if captured, will be treated as spies, guerrillas, or otherwise, according to the circumstances of the case.

RIVER AND RAIL TRANSPORTATION, Feb. 15.—GENRAL ORDERS No. 9: On and after the 1st day of March next, boats belonging to the Government, or being under charter, impressment or otherwise in Government service on the Mississlppi River and its tributaries, will be required to keep a log or daily journal of all the movements and transactions of such boats—noting the day and hour of departure from different points, the distance moved, number of men, quan-titles of freight or animals transported, the points from and to which transportation has been furnished, time detained i tak-ing in fuel, quantity taken, and where purchased, the price paid for the same, the hour and place of passing other boats, with all accidents and incidents of importance connected with the navigation; also, copies of all orders received, connected with the thing.

Our men, however, stood their ground beroically, as attested by piles of slain rebels lying before our works in various directions. The enemy also fought with valor worthy of a better cause.

Friday night and Saturday morning Couch's forces came up from towards Wilmington, and effected a junction with Cox, which gave us an advantage, of course, of which the rebels were not slow to become informed; so they at once began to fall back, abandoning all opposition on this side of the Neuse river, and they are now on the north side of the river, with the course of the same, certified by the clerks and captain of the boat, will be made and forwarded to each report a certified copy of the portage list, and expenditures on account of the boat for the month, under the general head of wages, stores, repairs, fuel, dc.; also a general abstract or summary of the amount of transportation performed during the month. The will be kept in a good, substantary-bound book, to be furnished by the Quartermaster having such boat in charge. At the end of each month duplicate copies of the same, certitied by the clerks and captain of the boat, will be made and forwarded to the Quartermaster on whose rolls or by whose authority the boat is in service, one copy of which will be preserved by him, and the other immediately forwarded to this office, with his approval or disappare to cross over the river at once by proval of the same, in an envelope indorsed on the margin, "River and Rail Transpor-tation, 4th Division." The Election of Abraham Lincoln. IN order to prove my faith by my deeds, and being fully convinced now, that the American people will have to subject theif for another four years to the rule of the "tyrant and usnrper," and that in that emergency, gold and genral merchandise will experience considerable downward tendency, I have concluded to reduce the prices of my well assorted stock of Dry Goods, Cloaks, Mantillas Rich Dress Goods, Bonnets, Hats, Shawls, Silks, Domestics, And everything else naually kept in a first class Dry Goods House to such figures as will justify everybody from the highest to the lowest to pitch in.
